A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA.

For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.

Anyone who uses a Credit Report or another type of Consumer Report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment - or to take another adverse action against you - must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.

You have the right to know what is in your file.

You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your "file disclosure"). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:

- a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit file;
- you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
- your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
- you are on public assistance;
- you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

You have the right to ask for a credit score.

Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.

You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.

If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and file it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.

Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.

Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to file information it has verified as accurate.

Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.

In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.

Access to your file is limited.

A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need -- usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.

You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.

A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit file.

Unsolicited "prescreened" offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).

You may seek damages from violators.

If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court. Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. Federal enforcers are:

Your Rights Under State Law

STATE OF PUERTO RICO - NOTICE TO CONSUMERS

According to Puerto Rico Code, Title 7, Banking, Part VI, Control and Supervision, Chapter 132, Credit Reporting Agencies, § 2040, Obtaining free of charge once per year a credit report, a consumer is entitled to one free credit file disclosure from each credit reporting agency that maintains business in Puerto Rico. Pursuant to this article, Equifax Information Services LLC will, upon request, provide you with one free credit file disclosure each calendar year.

Although Puerto Rico does not currently have a security freeze law in effect, under the Equifax voluntary security freeze program you may request that a security freeze be placed on your Equifax Information Services LLC (Equifax) credit report by sending a request in writing by certified mail or by electronic means as described below. The security freeze on your credit report will prohibit Equifax from releasing your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent the release of your credit report without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who is allowed access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, government services or payments, rental housing, investment, license, cellular telephone, utilities, digital signature, Internet credit card transaction or other services, including an extension of credit at point of sale. When you place a security freeze on your credit report, you will be provided a personal identification number or password to use if you choose to remove the security freeze from your credit report or to authorize the temporary release of your credit report for a specific party or specific period of time while the security freeze is in place. To provide that authorization, you must contact Equifax and provide all the following:

1. Proper identification.
2. The unique personal identification number or password provided by the credit reporting agency.
3. The proper information regarding the specific party who is to receive the credit report or the specific period of time for which the credit report is to be available.
4. Appropriate fee.

Equifax will authorize the release of your credit report no later than fifteen (15) minutes after receiving the above information if the request is by electronic means or no later than three business days when a written request is submitted.

Equifax will permanently remove the security freeze from your credit file not later than 3 business days after receiving your request to do so.

A security freeze does not apply to certain persons, including a person, or collection agencies acting on behalf of a person, with whom you have an existing account that requests information in your credit report for the purposes of reviewing or collecting the account. A security freeze does not apply to the use of your credit report for insurance underwriting purposes or employment purposes.

If you are actively seeking a new credit, loan, utility, or telephone account, you should understand that the procedures involved in lifting a security freeze may slow your own applications for credit. You should plan ahead and lift a freeze, either completely if you are shopping around or specifically for a certain creditor, with enough advance notice before you apply for new credit to enable the lifting to take effect.

To place a security freeze on your Equifax credit report, send your request via certified mail to:

Equifax Security Freeze
P.O. Box 105788
Atlanta, Georgia 30348

Or, you may contact us on the web at equifax.com or call 800-685-1111.

The fee to place a security freeze on your credit report is $10.00. If you are the victim of identity theft and you submit a copy of a valid police report, investigative report or complaint you have filed with a law enforcement agency regarding the unlawful use of your personal information by another person, no fee will be charged. Include your complete name, complete address, social security number, date of birth and payment, if applicable.

Written confirmation of the security freeze will be sent within 10 business days of receipt of the request via first class mail. It will include your unique personal identification number and instructions for removing the security freeze or authorizing the release of your credit report for a specific party or specific period of time.
